

LEGAL MANAGEMENT

Effective management, organization and support of the legal function ensure superior business performance.

LAWGISTIC

Perfecting the Profession

As organizations operate under increasingly complex legal and regulatory frameworks, legal departments face unprecedented challenges, which include how best to:

- Provide high caliber advice and services
- Efficiently manage and reduce legal costs
- Manage and avoid litigation
- Articulate the value of the legal function to top management

Success in this environment demands skills, tools and competencies that address a wide variety of issues, including:

°Contract Management

°Litigation Management

°Corporate Housekeeping

°Legal Project Management

Contract Management

Effective contract management is a top priority. It constitutes the majority of a legal department's workload. Consequently, the challenge of managing a high case volume with limited resources can prove overwhelming.

We help our clients design, develop and implement contract management solutions.

Our Contract Optimization Process systematically manages contract creation, execution and retention, maximizing operational and financial performance.

Benefits:

- Automate the complete contract life cycle
- Provide an active and secure contract repository
- Institutionalize standard procedures for contract creation and management.

LEGAL MANAGEMENT

Litigation Management

Litigation is a business endeavor that can have a profound impact on the financial health of a corporation. As a result, corporate executives are increasingly expecting a project management-style approach from their In-House legal departments when it comes to litigation portfolio oversight.

Important benefits derive from viewing litigation as a business process and investment. We put processes in place to gain greater control and insight throughout the litigation process.

Benefits:

- Control litigation costs
- Obtain timely and useful reports
- Maximize settlement opportunities

Corporate Housekeeping

Businesses are expected to efficiently manage multitude records, reporting activities and internal processes. This administrative burden falls primarily upon the legal team, consuming significant time and resources that might be better spent on more profitable activities.

While most companies maintain a large number of corporate governance-related policies, few corporate administrative teams revise these policies with due priority.

Lawgistic offers “Corporate Health Checks” to maintain compliance and identify risks.

Benefits:

- Handle key matters associated with the legal operation of the business
- Monitor compliance with existing corporate requirements.

Legal Project Management

We help In-House legal departments streamline their internal process, using project management to eliminate inefficiencies, anticipate variables, analyze costs and establish clear protocols in order to efficiently manage all matters.

Companies are demanding greater predictability, improved accountability, and above all, cost containment in all legal operations.

Lawgistic can provide key tools to respond to these demands.

Benefits:

- Establish clear and manageable protocols for managing legal projects, including communication, budgeting and progress reporting.
- Incorporate the client’s needs into the critical path of legal project planning.